A clerk in a Paris store gave a unique reason for being three minutes late yesterday morning. "I was blockaded by three fat ladies," he said. "Just as I turned into Main street I found myself walking behind them. They were walking side by side, and I saw that I could not squeeze through. Each of them would have made a good center rush on a football team. The street was muddy, and I did not want to step into the mud. There was simply no getting around them, and, as they walked very slow, I was compelled to walk behind them for a distance of half a block."

Your pantry is not complete without a sack of E. F. Spears & Sons' Red Cross Flour.
